

Happy Holidays

To all of the dear friends of RKC,

Our newest preserve in Sloans Valley continues to be improved by our wonderful volunteers. The entrance once called "Garbage Pit" is now clean of debris and open to the public as the Crockett entrance. RKC is proud to maintain this well-known entrance and the nearby Scowling Tom entrance.

A fence has been installed around the rim of the pit entrance, for the safety of people and wildlife. Signage has been installed, and a donation tube. There is also a cleared parking area. The new owners of the renovated Crockett house have fenced off their meadow and gated the road, so the creation of this preserve was just in time to maintain this asset for the caving community.

In this holiday season, please consider donating to RKC to help fund additional improvements and replenish our depleted acquisition fund. See our website at rkci.org. And remember our Amazon Smile program ... no cost to you, but dollars to RKC.

Renew your membership for 2023, or become a sustaining or life member of RKC online. You can also join our Legacy Endowment Fund to invest in RKC's long term future.

Best Wishes to you and Your Family over the Holidays!
